THE growing Importance of the College of NEW-JERSEY, (for the Use of which the above Lottery is principally designed) is now generally known through every Province of America. It has hitherto subsisted, and been raised to its present Situation, entirely by the Favour of the Public. In the Centre of North-America, and in a pleasant, healthy Country, it is well fitted for the most extensive Usefulness. The Success which has attended the vigorous Efforts already made, to raise its Funds, and furnish the Means of a complete and finished Education, to all who are sent to it, has encouraged those concerned in the present Attempt; especially as several very judicious Persons have warmly recommended it, signifying their Surprize, that at a Time, when so many have taken this Method of promoting public Undertakings, a SEMINARY, of such Importance, should not also put in for a Share of the general Benevolence. This, added to the other Schemes for the Support and Improvement of the College, will afford so many Friends of that Institution, an Opportunity of contributing with very little Risk of losing, and a considerable Chance of Gain to themselves, who would not incline that the small Sums they could spare, should appear in a Subscription Paper.

As a Number of Tickets are already engaged, and many Gentlemen of extensive Acquaintance have interested themselves in this Measure, the Drawing will commence the First Week in October next, in the Town of New-Castle on Delaware, and a List of the fortunate Numbers published, and sent to the several Towns and Places where the Tickets may be sold. The Prizes, after deducting Fifteen per Cent. for the Purposes of the Lottery, will be paid by the Gentlemen of whom they were purchased.

Orders for Tickets will be complied with, by applying to Richard Stockton, Jonathan Serjeant, Esqrs. or Mr. Enos Kelso, at Prince-Town; to William P. Smith, William Livingston, or Robert Ogden, Esqrs. at Elizabeth-Town, New-Jersey; to Messrs. Broom and Co. at New-York; George Bryan, and Joseph Read, Esquires; Doctors William Shippen, John Redman, or Robert Harris, Messrs. Andrew Hodge, Gunning Bedford, William Henry, John Bayard, Isaac Snowden, Jonathan B. Smith, William Semple, Robert Paisley, or William and Thomas Bradford, of Philadelphia; Mr. David Walker, in New-Port, on Potowmack, Maryland; Mr. Archibald M'Call, in Tappahannock; Mr. John Talliaferro, in Fredericksburg; and Mr. William Holt, Williamsburgh, Virginia; or to the following Gentlemen, viz. George Monro, David Finney, John Thomson, and Nicholas Vandyke, Esqrs; Messrs. Samuel Paterson, and David Clarke, in New-Castle, who are appointed Managers of said Lottery, and will be on Oath, for the faithful Discharge of the Trust, reposed in them.

 Letters directed to Messrs. William & Thomas Bradford, in Philadelphia, and left with T. POWELL, at the Printing-Office on the Bay, near the Exchange, will be safely forwarded, and answered by the first Opportunity that offers after the Receipt of them.

The SUBSCRIBER

July 1d, 1773. WILLIAM BOONE.

SOUTH-CAROLINA.

In the COMMONS HOUSE of ASSEMBLY, Friday the Twentieth Day of AUGUST, 1773.

ORDERED,

THAT the following PROCEEDINGS of this House be printed in the several Gazettes of this Province.

THOMAS FARR, jun. Clerk.

TUESDAY, the 17th Day of August, 1773.

ORDERED,

THAT a Committee of the following Gentlemen be appointed to enquire into the present State of the Public Treasury, viz. Capt. GADSDEN, Col. PINCKNEY, Mr. RUTLEDGE, Col. POWELL, Mr. ELLIOTT, Mr. BREWTON, Mr. BEE, Mr. CATTELL, Mr. FERGUSON, Dr. HAIG, and Mr. HEYWARD.

Ordered, That the said Committee do sit immediately, and that they have Power to send for Persons, Papers, and Records.

WEDNESDAY the 18th Day of August, 1773.

Capt. GADSDEN reported from the Committee appointed to enquire into the present State of the Public Treasury, That the Committee had examined into the Matter, and had directed him to report the same, as it appeared to them, to the House; and he read the Report in his Place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Table, where the same was read.

Resolved, That the said Report be taken into Consideration To-morrow Morning.

THURSDAY the 19th Day of August, 1773.

The House proceeded to take into Consideration the Report of the Committee appointed to enquire into the present State of the Public Treasury; and the said Report being read throughout, with the several Alterations and Amendments, which were made thereto by the House, was agreed to: And is as followeth, viz.

That in Pursuance of the Order of the House, they have endeavoured to obtain as clear a State of the Treasury as the Shortness of the Time allowed by the House will admit, and in Order thereto, they sent for Mr. PERONNEAU one of the Public Treasurers, and from him they learn,

That there is about the Sum of £.10,000 in Gold and Silver, and a Trifle of lawful Bills that are negotiable, now in the Treasury.

That the Sum of 127,647*l. 6s. 11d.* is due to the Public up to the First of June last, for Duties; which Sum Mr. Peronneau looks upon to be at the Risque of the joint Public Treasurers, and that they think themselves obliged to produce that Sum in Cash in the Treasury, whenever they are called upon by any Branch of the Legislature.

That there is the further Sum of about £.38,000 which will soon be due for Duties, since the First of June last, and of Course will be in the Treasury.

That there is also the Sum of £.35,000 in the Treasury in old lawful Bills, but so torn, as not to be passable.

That there are also sundry Tax Certificates, Public Orders, &c. that are to be burnt, pursuant to Laws, amounting to 77,047*l. 10s. 8d.* now lying in the Treasury for that Purpose.

Your Committee are therefore unanimously of Opinion, that as the two first Sums amounting to 137,674*l. 6s. 11d.* are to be looked upon as actually in the Treasury, and ready for public Service; and as the further Sum of £38 000 will be there in two or three Months more at farthest; that there was no just Foundation for the Alarm published lately, by the Authority of His Majesty's Council, "That the Public Treasury must very shortly stop Payment."

And your Committee beg Leave further to observe, that in their Enquiry into this Business, they have Reason to believe the Public Treasurers have been rather too officious and busy in this Matter.

And that the Conduct of the Council thereon, has been not only hasty and unprecedented, but disrespectful to his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, contemptuous to the Representatives of the People, and tending to endanger the Public Credit.

Resolved, That a Message be prepared to be sent to his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, on the Subject Matter of the said Report; and it is referred to the Committee who was appointed to enquire into the State of the Public Treasury, to prepare the said Message.

FRIDAY, the 20th Day of August, 1773.

Capt. Gadsden reported from the Committee appointed to prepare a Message to be sent to the Lieutenant-Governor, on the Subject Matter of the Report of the Committee, to enquire into the State of the Public Treasury: That the Committee had prepared a Message accordingly, which they had directed him to report to the House; and he read the Message in his Place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Table, where the same was read.

Resolved, That the said Message be taken into Consideration immediately.

And the said Message being read again to the House, and after some Amendments being made thereto, it was agreed to, and is as followeth, viz.

May it please your Honour,

HIS Majesty's Council having, in their Address to your Honour, dated the 13th Instant, endeavoured to deceive you as well as the Public, by their pretended Fear, "That the Treasury must soon stop Payment," and by attributing this supposed Event to the Conduct of the Assembly. In order that a Misrepresentation so injurious both to the Public Credit and the People's Representatives may not pass uncontradicted, We beg Leave to acquaint your Honour, that it appears to us, that the Public Treasury has been always able to satisfy every Demand hitherto made thereon, and there is no Probability, that there will not always be Money in the Treasury sufficient to answer every Claim upon it, for the Sum of 127,674*l. 6s. 11d.* mentioned in the Report herewith sent your Honour, due to the Public for Duties to the First of June last, is to be looked upon as actually in the Treasury, the Treasurers being accountable for, and obliged, as they themselves admit, to produce that Money whenever required; an Order therefore from your Honour to the Attorney-General to compel Payment of private Debts to the Treasurers, would, we apprehend, be illegal, and as improper as the Address of the Council which requested it; and the Application that the Attorney-General, their President, may be employed upon this Occasion, should have been made, not to your Honour, but to the Treasurers, from whom only he can obtain Authority.

We further beg Leave to assure your Honour, that every Tax Bill sent to the Council, hath been framed upon the fundamental Principles of the Constitution, this House being determined to adhere to them, and neither introduce or submit to any Innovation therein.—The Trading Part of this Province as well as many Individuals, may indeed lament, that no Tax Bills have been passed since the Year 1769. But had they been passed in such a Manner as would have been agreeable to the Council, our Constituents would have had Reason for ever to lament the Loss of their most valuable Priviledge, the exclusive Right of Originating and Framing all Money Bills.

By Order of the House,

RAWLINS LOWNDES, Speaker.

In the COMMONS HOUSE of ASSEMBLY, the 20th Day of AUGUST, 1773.

Ordered, That Mr. Cattell, and Dr. Haig do wait on His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, with the Message.

Mr. Cattell reported to the House, that Dr. Haig and himself, had waited on the Lieutenant-Governor, and delivered the Message they had in Charge.

SIR, Boſton, 11 May, 1768.

I AM this moment favoured with your very obliging letter by Capt. Jarvis of the 2d of March, which I have but juſt time to acknowledge, as this is the day given out for the ſhip to ſail. I wrote the 23d of February in reply to your letter of the 28th December; that of the 12th February which you refer to in that of the 2d of March is not yet come to hand. You lay me, Sir, under the greateſt obligations as well for the intereſting account of public affairs, which you are from time to time pleaſed to tranſmit me, as to your ſteady attention to my private concerns. I ſhall always have the moſt grateful ſenſe of Mr. Grenville's intention, of favour alſo, whether I ever reap any benefit from them or not. Without a proper ſupport afforded to the King's officers, the reſpect due to government will of courſe fail; yet I cannot ſay whether under the preſent circumſtances, and conſidering the temper the people are now in, an additional proviſion for me would be of real benefit to me perſonally, or not. It has been given out, that no perſon who receives a ſtipend from government at home, ſhall live in the country. Government here wants ſome effectual ſupport: No ſooner was it known that the Lieutenant-Governor had a proviſion of £200 a year made for him out of the revenue, than he was adviſed in the Boſton Gazette to reſign all pretenſions to a ſeat in Council, either with or without a voice. The temper of the people may be ſurely learnt from that infamous paper; it is the very thing that forms the temper; for if they are not in the temper of the writer at the time of publication, yet it is looked upon as the ORACLE, and they ſoon bring their temper to it. Some of the lateſt of them are very expreſſive, I will not trouble you with ſending them, as I imagine they will ſomehow or other find their way to you. But I cannot but apprehend from theſe papers, and from hints that are thrown out, that if the petition of the Houſe to his Majeſty, and their letters to divers noble Lords ſhould fail of ſucceſs, ſome people will be mad enough to go to extremities. The commiſſioners of the cuſtoms have already been openly affronted, the Governor's company of cadets have come to a reſolution not to wait on him (as uſual) on the day of General Election the 25th inſt. if thoſe gentlemen are of the company. And the town of Boſton have paſſed a vote, that Faneuil-Hall (in which the Governor and his company uſually dine on that day) ſhall not be opened to him if the commiſſioners are invited to dine with him. A liſt of the Counſellors has within a few days paſt been printed and diſperſed by way of ſneer on Lord Shelburne's letter, made up of the King's officers; which liſt, the writer ſays, if adopted at the next General Election may take away all grounds of complaint, and may poſſibly prove a healing and very ſalutary meaſure. The Lieutenant-Governor is at the head of this liſt, they have done me the honour to put me next, the commiſſioners of the cuſtoms are all in this liſt, except Mr. Temple, and to complete the liſt, they have added ſome of the waiters. I never thought 'till very lately, that they acted upon any ſettled plan, nor now do I think they have till of late; a few, a very few, among us have planned the preſent meaſures, and the government has been too weak to ſubdue their turbulent ſpirits. Our ſituation is not rightly known; but it is a matter worthy of the moſt ſerious attention.

I am with the greateſt reſpect,
Sir, your moſt obedient and
Moſt humble Servant,
ANDREW OLIVER.

I ſhall take proper care to forward your letters to Mr. Ingerſol. He received your laſt.

SIR, Boſton, 13th of February, 1769.

I HAVE your very obliging favour of the 4th of October. I find myſelf conſtrained as well by this letter as by my ſon and daughter Spooner's letters ſince, to render you my moſt ſincere thanks for the very polite notice you have taken of them; and I pay my moſt reſpectful compliments to the good lady your mother, whoſe friendly reception of them at Nonſuch, has, I find, enagaged their warmeſt eſteem and reſpect.——He hath wrote us that he had a proſpect of ſucceeding in the buſineſs he went upon; but the laſt letters we had was from her of the 23d of November, acquainting us that he had been very ill, but was getting better. She writes as a perſon overcome with a ſenſe of the kindneſs they had met with, in a place where they were ſtrangers, on this trying occaſion.

You have heard of the arrival of the King's troops, the quiet reception they met with among us was not at all ſurprizing to me. I am ſorry there was any occaſion for ſending them. From the addreſs of the gentlemen of the Council to General Gage, it might be ſuppoſed there was none. I have ſeen a letter from our friend Ingerſol with his paraphraſe upon it—"We hope that your Excellency obſerving with your own eyes, now the troops are among us, our peaceable and quiet behavior, will be convinced that that wicked Governor Bernard told a fib in ſaying, we were not ſo before they came."

I have given you the ſenſe of a ſtranger on a ſingle paragraph of this addreſs, becauſe I ſuſpected my own opinion of it, 'till I found it thus confirmed.—If you have the news-papers containing the addreſs, your own good ſenſe will lead you to make ſome remarks upon it, as well as to trace the influence under which it ſeems to have been penned. The diſturbers of our peace take great advantage of ſuch aids from people in office and power. The Lieutenant-Governor has communicated to me your letter containing an account of the debates in Parliament on the firſt day of the ſeſſion: We ſoon expected their deciſion on American affairs, ſome I doubt not with fear and trembling—Yet I have very lately had occaſion to know, that be the determination of Parliament what will, it is the determination of ſome to agree to no terms that ſhall remove us from our old foundation. This confirms me in an opinion that I have taken up a long time ſince, that if there be no way to take off the original incendiaries, they will continue to inſtil their poiſon into the minds of the people through the vehicle of the BOSTON GAZETTE.

In your letter to the Lieutenant-Governor, you obſerve upon two defects in our conſtitution, the popular election of the Council, and the return of Juries by the towns. The firſt of theſe ariſes from the charter itſelf; the latter from our provincial laws. The method of appointing our Grand Juries lies open to management. Whoever pleaſes nominates them at our town-meetings; by this means one who was ſuppoſed to be a principal in the riots of the 10th of June laſt, was upon that Jury whoſe buſineſs it was to enquire into them: But the provincial legiſlature hath made ſufficient proviſion for the return of Petit Juries by their act of the 23d of George II. which requires the ſeveral towns to take liſts of all perſons liable by law to ſerve, and forming them into two claſſes, put their names written on ſeparate papers into two different boxes, one for the ſuperior court, and the other for the inferior: And when venires are iſſued, the number therein required are to be drawn out in open town meeting, no perſon to ſerve oftner than once in three years—The method of appointing Grand Juries appears indeed defective; but if the other is not, it may be imputed to the times rather than the laws—that neither the Grand Juries nor the Petit Juries have of late anſwered the expectations of government.

As to the appointment of the Council, I am of opinion that neither the popular elections in this province, nor their appointment in what are called the royal governments by the King's mandamus, are free from exceptions, eſpecially if the Council as a legiſlative body is intended to anſwer the idea of the Houſe of Lords in the Britiſh legiſlature. There they are ſuppoſed to be a free and independant body, and on their being ſuch, the ſtrength and firmneſs of the conſtitution does very much depend; whereas the election or appointment of the councils in the manner before-mentioned renders them altogether dependant on their conſtituents. The King is the fountain of honour, and as ſuch the Peers of the realm derive their honour from him; but then they hold them by a ſurer tenure than the provincial counſellors who are appointed by mandamus. On the other hand, our popular elections very often expoſe them to contempt; for nothing is more common, than for the Repreſentatives, when they find the Council a little untractable at the cloſe of the year, to remind them that May is at hand.

It may be accounted by the colonies as dangerous to admit of any alterations in their charters, as it is by the Governors in the church to make any in the eſtabliſhment; yet to make the reſemblance as near as may be, to the Britiſh Parliament, ſome alteration is neceſſary.

It is not requiſite that I know of, that a counſellor ſhould be a freeholder; his reſidence according to the charter is a ſufficient qualification; for that provides only, that he be an inhabitant of or proprietor of lands within the diſtrict for which he is choſen; whereas the Peers of the realm ſit in the Houſe of Lords, as I take it in virtue of their baronies. If there ſhould be a reform of any of the colony charters with a view to keep up a reſemblance of the three eſtates in England, the legiſlative Council ſhould conſiſt of men of landed eſtates: But as our landed eſtates here are ſmall at preſent, the yearly value of £ 100 ſterling per annum, might in ſome of them at leaſt be a ſufficient qualification. As our eſtates are partable after the deceaſe of the proprietor, the honour could not be continued in families as in England; It might however be continued in the the appointee quam diu bene ſe geſſerit, and proof be required of ſome mal practice before a ſuſpenſion or removal. Bankruptcy alſo might be another ground for removal. A ſmall legiſlative Council might anſwer the purpoſes of government; but it might tend to weaken that levelling principle, which is cheriſhed by the preſent popular conſtitution, to have an honorary order eſtabliſhed, out of which the Council ſhould be appointed. There is no way now to put a man of fortune above the common level, and exempt him from being choſen by the people into the lower offices, but his being appointed a juſtice of the peace; this is frequently done when there is no kind of expectation of his undertaking the truſt, and has its inconveniences. For remedy hereof it might be expedient to have an order of Patricians or Eſquires inſtituted, to be all men of fortune or good landed eſtates, and appointed by the Governor with the advice of Council, and enrolled in the Secretary's office, who ſhould be exempted from the lower offices in government as the juſtices now are; and to have the legiſlative Council (which in the firſt inſtance might be nominated by the Crown) from time to time filled up, as vacancies happen out of this order of men, who if the order conſiſted only of men of landed eſtates, might elect, as the Scottiſh Peers do, only reſerving the King's Governor a negative on ſuch choice. The King in this caſe would be ſtill acknowledged as the fountain of honour, as having in the firſt inſtance the appointment of the perſons enrolled, out of whom the Council are to be choſen, and finally having a negative on the choice. Or, the King might have the immediate appointment by mandamus as at preſent in the royal governments. As the gentlemen of the Council would rank above the body from which they are taken, they might bear a title one degree above that of Eſquire. Beſides this legiſlative Council, a privy Council might be eſtabliſhed, to conſiſt of ſome or all of thoſe perſons who conſtitute the legiſlative Council, and of other perſons members of the Houſe of Repreſentatives or otherwiſe of note and diſtinction; which would extend the honours of government, and afford opportunity of diſtinguiſhing men of character and reputation, the expectation of which would make government more reſpectable.

I would not trouble you with theſe reveries of mine, were I not aſſured of your readineſs to forgive the communication, although you could apply it to no good purpoſe.

Mr. Spencer ſent me a pamphlet under a black cover, intituled, "the ſtate of the nation." I run over it by myſelf before I had heard any one mention it, and thought I could evidently mark the ſentiments of ſome of my friends. By what I have ſince heard and ſeen, it looks as if I was not miſtaken. Your right Honourable friend I truſt will not be offended if I call him mine—I am ſure you will not when I term you ſuch—I have ſettled it for a long time in my own mind that without a repreſentation in the ſupreme legiſlature, there cannot be that union between the head and the members as to produce a healthy conſtitution of the whole body. I have doubted whether this union could be perfected by the firſt experiment. The plan here exhibited ſeems to be formed in generous and moderate principles, and bids the faireſt of any I have yet ſeen to be adopted. Such a great deſign may as in painting require frequent touching before it becomes a piece highly finiſhed; and after all may require the meliorating hand of time to make it pleaſe univerſally. Thus the Britiſh conſtitution, conſidered as without the colonies, attained its glory. The book I had ſent me is in ſuch requeſt, that I have not been able to keep it long enough by me, to conſider it in all its parts. I wiſh to hear how it is received in the Houſe of Commons. I find by the publications both of Governor Pownall and Mr. Bollan, that they each of them adopt the idea of an union and repreſentation, and I think it muſt more and more prevail. The argument againſt it from local inconvenciency, muſt as it appears to me be more than balanced by greater inconveniences on the other ſide of the queſtion, the great difficulty will be in the terms of union.—I add no more, as I fear I have already trelpaſſed much on your time and patience, but that I am, Sir, your obliged and moſt obedient humble ſervant, ANDREW OLIVER.

SIR, New-York, 12th Auguſt, 1769.

I HAVE been in this city for ſome time paſt, executing (with others) his Majeſty's commiſſion for ſettling the boundary between this province and that of New-Jerſey. I left Boſton the 12th July, ſince which my advices from London have come to me very imperfect; but as my friend Mr. Thompſon writes me that he had drawn up my caſe, and with your approbation, laidit before the Duke of Grafton, I think it needful once more to mention this buſineſs to you.

There was a time when I thought the authority of government might have been eaſily reſtored; but while its friends and the officers of the Crown are left to an abject dependence on theſe very people who are undermining its authority, and while theſe are ſuffered not only to go unpuniſhed, but on the contrary meet with all kind of ſupport and encouragement, it cannot be expected that you will ever again recover that reſpect which the colonies had been wont to pay to the parent ſtate. Government at home will deceive itſelf, if it imagines that the taking off the duty on glaſs, paper, and painter's glaſs, will work a reconciliation, and nothing more than this, as I can learn, is propoſed in Lord H——'s late circular letter. It is the principle that is now diſputed; the combination againſt importation extends to tea, although it comes cheaper than ever, as well as to the fore-mentioned articles. In Virginia it is extended lately to wines; and I have heard one of the firſt leaders in theſe meaſures in Boſton ſay, that we ſhould never be on a proper footing till all the revenue acts from the 15th Charles ad were repealed. Our Aſſembly in the Maſſachuſetts may have been more illiberal than others in their public meſſages and reſolves; yet we have ſome people among us ſtill who dare to ſpeak in favour of government: But here I do not find ſo much as one, unleſs it be ſome of the King's ſervants; and yet my buſineſs here leads me to aſſociate with the beſt. They univerſally approve of the combination againſt importing of goods from Great-Britain, unleſs the revenue acts are repealed, which appears to me little leſs than aſſuming a negative on all acts of Parliament which they do not like! They ſay expreſsly, we are bound by none made ſince our emigration, but ſuch as for our own convenience we chooſe to ſubmit to; ſuch for inſtance as that for eſtabliſhing a poſt-office. The Bill of rights and the Habeas Corpus Acts, they ſay are only delaratory of the common law which we brought with us.

Under ſuch circumſtances as theſe, why ſhould I wiſh to expoſe myſelf to popular reſentment? Were I to receive any thing out of the revenue, I muſt expect to be abuſed for it. Nor do I find that our Chief Juſtice has received the £.200 granted him for that ſervice; and yet the Aſſembly have this year withheld his uſual grant, moſt probably becauſe he has ſuch a warrant from the Crown.

With regard to my negociations with Mr. Rogers, I did in conformity to your opinion make an apology to Mr. Secretary Pownall for mentioning it, and there ſubmitted it. I hear it has been talked of; but unleſs I could be aſſured in one ſhape or other of £.300 per annum, with the other office, I would not chooſe to quit what I have. I have no ambition to be diſtinguiſhed, if I am only to be held up as a mark of popular envy or reſentment. I was in hopes before now through the intervention of your good offices to have received ſome mark of favour from your good friend; but the time is not come to expect it through that channel! I will however rely on your friendſhip, whenever you can with propriety appear in forwarding my intereſt, or preventing any thing that may prove injurious to it.

If Mr. R. has intereſt enough to obtain the Secretary's office, I ſhall upon receiving proper ſecurity think myſelf in honour bound to ſecond his views, though I have none at preſent from him but a conditional note he formerly wrote me. If he is not like to ſucceed, and my ſon Daniel could have my place, I would be content, unleſs affairs take a different turn, to reſign in his favour, whether adminiſtration ſhould think proper to make any further proviſion for me or not. And yet I never thought of withdrawing myſelf from the ſervice, while there appeared to me any proſpect of being able to promote it.

If I wrote with freedom, I conſider I am writing to a friend, and that I am perfectly ſafe in opening my mind to you. I am, with reſpect, Sir, your moſt obedient, humble ſervant,

ANDREW OLIVER.
